

INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT OF URBAN TRANSPORT: CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES

7-8th June 2012
Moscow

Organized by
Scientific and Research Institute of Motor Transport (NIIAT) in cooperation with the UN ECE, WHO and Ministry of Transport of the Russian Federation

- The Workshop was a part of THE PEP relay race (staffette);
- The Representative of the city of Kiev handed over THE PEP baton to the city of Moscow;
- The objective of the Workshop was to encourage transport, health and environment policy-makers to work together in developing strategies and measures for sustainable and healthy urban transport in accordance with Priority Goal 2 of the Amsterdam Declaration.

- Session 1. Key Issues and Challenges for Sustainable Urban Mobility in the Russian Federation
- Session 2. Environmental and Health Impact of Motor Transport in Cities: How to Measure and Address these Issues?
- Session 3. How to Plan and Manage Transport for Attractive, Sustainable and Livable Cities?
- Session 4. New Technologies to Achieve Sustainable Transport in Cities
- Session 5. Public Transport as an Attractive Alternative to Private Cars: How to Integrate Public Transport into Seamless Urban Transport?
- Session 6. Walking and Cycling as an Integral Part of Transport and Urban Development Planning?
- Session 7. How to Increase the Environmental Performance of Vehicle Fleet and Fuels in Cities?

Total Number of Participants – 157, including representatives of:

- 3 Federal Ministries, and 6 Regional Ministries;
- 14 regions of Russia;
- 14 countries (Russia, Ukraine, Belarus, Kazakhstan, France, Japan, Norway, Austria, USA, Netherlands, Germany, Belgium, Switzerland, Sweden);
- UN ECE, WHO, WB, UNDP;
- 15 Technical Universities and Research Institutes.

THE PEP Transport, Health and Environment
Pan-European Programme
International Workshop in Moscow, 7-8th June 2012

