National Cycling Promotion
Austrian Masterplan for Cycling and Action Programme klima:aktiv mobil

Robert Thaler
Head of Division Transport, Mobility, Human Settlement and Noise
Austrian Ministry for Agriculture, Forestry, Environment and Water Management
Why promoting cycling?

- Cycling is an environmentally friendly, economical beneficial and health promoting means of transport, a quick alternative for short trips, space-saving and above all ...

>> Cycling is fun!

- The modal share of cycling in Austria is today only 5%, which is relatively low compared to European countries – today cycling is still seen as a recreational issue rather than as day-to-day mobility, but ...

>> There is a big regional difference showing the potential for cycling

  - City of Salzburg 16%, City of Graz 16% - City of Vienna 5%
  - Municipality of Bürmoos (S) 46% - Municipality of Hargelsberg (OÖ) 0%
  - Federal State Vorarlberg 15% - Federal State Burgenland 5%
Why promoting cycling in Austria?

- But some Austrian cities and regions show: cycling promoting policies lead to increase of cycling
  - Federal State of Vorarlberg 15%
  - City of Graz: 14%(1995) → 16% (2009)
  - Even small villages show success

- Big potential for the use of bicycles for short trips
  - about 25% of all car trips are less than 2km long
  - about 50% of all car trips are less than 5km long

Potential for the use of bicycles

Assumption: The cycling modal share in Austria is as high as it is in the Austrian federal province Vorarlberg: 14%.

- 560 million – 1.6 billion car kilometres could be saved
- Annual CO₂ reduction of 100,000–270,000 t
- Reduction of nitrous gases by 270–780 t each year
“Masterplan Cycling“

- Austrian national strategy to promote cycling
- Positive contribution to attain environmental goals
  - Reduction of greenhouse gases (climate protection)
  - Reduction of air pollutants (particulates, NOx)
  - Cut back in street noise
- Positive effect for health
- Increased quality of life
- Goal: doubling of the Austrian cycling modal share (from 5% to 10% until 2015)
