

THE PEP Partnership on child- and youth-friendly mobility

Building forward better for children and youth – Vienna Declaration:

- Ministers of THE PEP Member States recognize the importance of child- and youth-friendly mobility
- Passage 26 from the Vienna Declaration reads:

26. Welcome the establishment of a new partnership on child- and youth-friendly mobility and highlight the importance of incorporating the perspective of future generations in the work of THE PEP;

THE PEP

Transport, Health
and Environment
Pan-European Programme

What do children and young people need?

- Active mobility to combat physical inactivity
- Nature and a healthy environment
- Safe travel and safe public play zones
- Independent mobility – in particular in rural regions, where young people without a driver's license have difficulties getting from one place to another
- Participation

Taking action – launching the THE PEP Partnership on child- and youth-friendly mobility

- Taking action to implement the Vienna Declaration
- Creating opportunities for knowledge exchange, good-practice sharing, contribution of inputs, initiatives and suggestions, getting involved in meetings
- Development of guidelines, toolboxes, summaries of good practices
- Ultimately: Development of a Pan-European Masterplan on child- and youth-friendly mobility

Fifth High-Level Ministerial Meeting on Transport, Health and Environment

17-18 May 2021, Vienna - Online

Kick-Off Meeting

Dezember 13th, Vienna (online format)

- Successful launch of the partnership
- 14 countries registered
- Laying the groundwork for future cooperation
- Lively discussions, good-practice and knowledge exchange

THE PEP

Transport, Health
and Environment
Pan-European Programme

Fifth High-Level Ministerial Meeting on Transport, Health and Environment

17-18 May 2021, Vienna - Online

Definition of topics of great collective concern:

- Infrastructure as a prerequisite
- Parents as key figures
- Awareness raising
- Participation of young people

Mentimeter-Survey:

What is the main word you imagine when you think of child- and youth-friendly mobility?

THE PEP

Transport, Health
and Environment
Pan-European Programme

Fifth High-Level Ministerial Meeting on Transport, Health and Environment

17-18 May 2021, Vienna - Online

Building forward better for children and youth:

2nd Meeting of
THE PEP Partnership on child- and youth-friendly mobility

Planned for May 2022

Contact pcy@energyagency.at to stay updated!

Foto Roekl e.U

THE PEP

Transport, Health
and Environment
Pan-European Programme

